

Together as ONE

After much anticipation, Adtran and ADVA have now formally combined. The combination enables us to make an even bigger difference for operators by offering a true end-to-end fiber solution portfolio.

Both companies are global leaders, trusted partners and key advocates in the journey to broadband access. The new Adtran delivers secure, scalable and assured fiber connectivity to homes, businesses and 5G infrastructures worldwide. These solutions are paired with cloud-managed Wi-Fi and SaaS applications that optimize network performance and improve the customer experience.

With a focus on understanding the key challenges and opportunities operators face, Adtran delivers open and disaggregated solutions that will help ensure your success – bringing the experience, creativity and skills required to support your team. With Adtran technology, you can deliver the ultimate experience to take your network, people and community forward.

Adtran + ADVA | Your benefits

- One platform to meet residential, WFH, business, wholesale, DCI, mobile X-Haul and wireless needs
- Comprehensive cloud network optimization and customer experience apps
- Cloud-native, open and disaggregated technology
- Security, monitoring and synchronization for seamless connectivity
- Stronger local presence for support, services and R&D
- A single source for your end-to-end networking requirements
- A trusted partner ready to unlock the future network

We want to hear about the opportunities and challenges you're facing. Schedule a call today with our experienced local team.