

Title Stay safe and productive on the warehouse floor

Subtitle Jabra Perform 45 is a lightweight and discreet Bluetooth® mono headset with up to 20 hours Push-to-Talk time, keeping warehouse associates connected.

Warehouses and other industrial settings bring unique demands with them. There's high-noise in most warehouse and manufacturing settings, so having noise cancellation you can count on is of utmost importance. Having push-to-talk features, such as mute, speed dial and Microsoft Walkie Talkie access leads to better productivity and efficiency by allowing workers to focus on the task at hand.

Things can happen fast in warehousing, and you and your colleagues need to be able to communicate with each other instantly. Push-to-Talk (PTT)* lets you push a button and instantaneously talk to all your colleagues at once, so questions, queries, and problems get resolved fast. It works like a walkie-talkie, without the hassle of fumbling around for your mobile device.

Manufacturing and warehouses are busy environments, so you need a headset that doesn't cut off before your shift is over. You'll get up to 20 hours of Push-to-Talk usage to stay connected to your colleagues throughout your shift, or up to 8 hours if you're just using it for calls. And with 100m / 300ft of wireless range, you can leave your device in a safe setting without losing connection.

The compact Jabra Perform 45 doesn't weigh you down and fits perfectly and discreetly around whichever ear you prefer to wear it on, which means you can always hear what's going on around you, in case a forklift or other heavy machinery happens to be coming near you. The headset comes with three sizes of EarGels™ - so you can find the fit that feels right for you - and weighs in at just 18g, to keep you comfortable all day, making light work of even the longest shifts.

The Perform 45 is equipped with an advanced ultra-noise-cancelling microphone that removes up to 80% of background noise from your side, and because we know great communication goes both ways, we've also optimized the speaker for speech clarity, so you'll hear your associates clearly too. It's the difference between "four candles" and "fork handles."

Jabra has optimized the design to make it easy to set up and use. Minimal button interactions and intuitive placement means you'll always find the right button fast. It's easy to sanitize, to avoid germs and stay safe. And it's durable too, with IP54-rated protection from dust and water, and an extended warranty.

The PTT button works with leading platforms like Microsoft Teams Walkie Talkie and Zebra Workforce Connect straight out of the box. And if Push-to-Talk just isn't something your business uses, it's simple to re-program the button for things, like speed dial, mute, and check battery instead. If you want a full overview, you can use Jabra Xpress to keep track, update, and customize all devices across the organization.
